

Minnesota Children's Museum Profile

Minnesota Children's Museum is a non-profit community education institution committed to sparking children's learning through play. Grownups and children from infants to ten years find a fun gathering place designed for families to learn and play together while they enjoy creative, interactive exhibits and programs.

The Museum offers a stimulating environment that creatively channels a child's natural curiosity. Children love setting their own pace here, and learn by moving, touching, experimenting and discovering.

In addition to popular permanent galleries packed with extraordinary hands-on adventures, families can explore four floors of fun featuring special traveling exhibits and many daily activities such as United in Big Healthy Fun! physical play, Family Arts, Inventor's Workshops, Story Time and more.

Play is a critical task of childhood, and the Museum's "play to learn" environment challenges children in a fun way, revving up their curiosity, and helping them achieve important learning milestones. Parents help jumpstart their child's achievement and engage their imagination when they visit Minnesota Children's Museum. Everyone finds new discoveries every visit as they explore exhibits and participate in programs that focus on language arts, math, health and fitness, art, music and social studies. Visiting the Museum can nurture family connections as parents and children investigate new experiences together.

Minnesota Children's Museum is conveniently located in the heart of downtown St. Paul at the corner of 7th Street and Wabasha. The Museum is typically open Tuesday through Sunday 9-5 and 9-8 Fridays. Visit the website, MCM.org, or call today at 651-225-6000.
